A forum for discussing the science of dissemination and implementation, the 9th Annual Conference aims to grow the research base by bridging the gap between evidence, practice, and policy in health and medicine. The meeting has been designed to focus discussion on the highest priorities for dissemination and implementation science now and in the future to help optimize health and health care in the United States and elsewhere.

Mapping the Complexity and Dynamism of the Field
This year’s conference theme, Mapping the Complexity and Dynamism of the Field, focuses on how effective interventions can be applied to a variety of clinical and community settings, with a long-term evaluation component focusing on decisions about whether interventions should be sustained or discontinued (“de-implemented”).

Plenary Sessions
- Conference Overview and Keynote Address by Roy Rosin
- Balancing Adaptation and Fidelity: Exploring the Continuum
- Planning for the Long Term: Considering Sustainment and De-Implementation of Interventions
- Novel Directions in Dissemination Research

Join researchers, evaluators, practitioners, and implementers to discuss, debate and explore in-depth approaches to advance dissemination and implementation science.
